

AVENUE THROGS CHEER OLD GUARD

Veteran Battalion Honored on March to Memorial Service.

OFFICER PRAISES MARJORIE'S IDEA

Lieut. Wall Denounces Pacifists—
"Eagle's Scram Better than Coo of Dove."

With its band playing "The Stars and Stripes Forever," the Old Guard veteran battalion, 150 strong, marched on Fifth Avenue yesterday with the 10th anniversary step, led by their commander, Major Adolph Kline, and his staff, on the annual parade.

Stirred by the martial music, the thousands on the avenue broke into cheers as the white-coated veterans, wearing their bearskin shakos—reminders of Waterloo—passed in review. It was "hats off" when the color guard came, with Old Glory and the national flag snapping in the breeze. At headquarters, 229 West Fifty-first Street, prior to the short march, where the ninetieth anniversary memorial service was held, Adjutant General Louis W. Stotesbury, representing Governor Whitman, installed the following officers, who were elected at the annual meeting on March 18: Major commanding, Colonel Adolph Kline, honorary staff: Captain, James E. Vennart; first lieutenant, Charles E. Lueck; second lieutenant, A. E. Dick; company A: Captain, Edward H. Snyder; first lieutenant, Charles A. Du Bois; second lieutenant, Bernhard Wall; company B: Captain, John L. Vennart; first lieutenant, C. C. Ellis; second lieutenant, John H. Sullivan; company C: Captain, W. Duncan Preston; first lieutenant, Henry W. Jurtz; second lieutenant, Fred W. Jurtz.

Services at Church.
The services at the church were conducted by the Rev. James B. Watson, chaplain of the Old Guard, assisted by the choir. Dr. Watson referred to Captains D. A. Mathews and James E. Vennart as living examples of the youth of the Old Guard. They are thirty-five and thirty-two years old, respectively, and both took part in yesterday's celebration.

Adjutant General Stotesbury, at the dinner at headquarters in the evening, told the present that he was proud of the opportunity to visit the command and install its officers, but was still more gratified to mingle again with his comrades.

Colonel Kline Urges Defense.
Colonel Kline, speaking on preparedness, said: "Better the scream of the eagle than the coo of the dove when danger threatens. This nation must be prepared to defend right against wrong. We must profit by the history of the European war. No soldier should be to assume a negative attitude toward the question of preparedness. Peace means the house in order, and that condition cannot exist without preparedness."

Lieutenant Bernhard Wall, who spoke on the same subject, said: "The pacifist, listening to himself, should realize his head in shame because he is forced to live in a land for which thousands have died and died in 1776. He strongly urged preparedness, and raised the effort being made by Marjorie Stretter to build a battleship as a wonderful example of the patriotism of the children of America."

The other speakers included Major

S. Ellis Briggs, former commander of the Old Guard, who paid a glowing tribute to the men of the organization who have brought it up to its present standard of efficiency. He declared that it would always receive his earnest support.

CANDY AS BAD EXAMPLE

Child Welfare League Plans a Novel Exhibit.

Dr. Haven Emerson, New York Health Commissioner, is to lecture on "Child Problems" at the exhibit on "Childhood and Health," which will open Wednesday.

Other well known specialists who will speak are Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, Dr. Thomas D. Wood, Dr. Samuel McCune Lindsay and Dr. C. Ward Crumpton.

The National Child Welfare Association has arranged an exhibit of paintings and illustrations. The evils of candy eating are shown by animated chocolate cream and obnoxious ice cream sodas, dancing in ghastly glee at the thought of the quick things they do to childish stomachs.

The exhibit and speaking will be in the Educational Building, at 70 Fifth Avenue.

CHICAGO WILL FIGHT 9-CENT MILK THREAT

$3,000,000 Public Corporation to Compete with Monopolists.

(By Telegraph to The Tribune.)

Chicago, April 22.—Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson, of Chicago, announced today that a $3,000,000 corporation is being formed to take over the milk supply of the bulk of the city's 2,500,000 people in Chicago, if the dealers carry out their threat to raise the price of milk to 9 cents a quart.

The corporation is being formed by combining a number of small independent dealers so as to save by operation in transportation what the milk advance is costing them. State Senator Owen is backing the new company, and the Chicago Public Efficiency Board is dependent on to have charge of the milk transportation, which runs almost two million quarts a day.

The bog kee, mix and barren companies announce they will begin to sell at 9 cents a quart on May 1. The Bowman, alone of the four controlling companies, is hesitating.

DANCE IN LIGHT OF FLAMES

Jolly Boys' Ball Goes on While Factory Burns Next Door.

The Jolly Boys' Social Club, of Yorkville, outdrew Nero and his fiddling act last night. Five hundred youths and maidens of that proud generation danced calmly and with much apparent enjoyment right next door to a three-alarm fire, which nearly demolished a nine-story, shirtwaist factory at 511 to 515 East Seventy-second Street.

While engines were arriving and the flames were leaping high and reserves from four police stations were being called out to handle the crowd, the music kept on playing in Sokol Hall, right next to the burning building.

The fire started on the ninth floor of the structure, which is owned by the J. J. Company, makers of linen shirtwaists and underwear. When Battalion Chief Dougherty arrived he sent in a second and third alarm. In an hour the firemen, working to the strains of ragtime emanating from Sokol Hall, had the blaze under control. The estimated damage is $70,000.

LUSITANIA LIVING TO UNITE FOR AID

Survivors and Families of Victims to Organize to Protect Rights.

SUPPORT OF U. S. MAY BE DEMANDED

Permanent Committee Will Be Appointed at Meeting Here on Wednesday.

Steps looking toward the appointment of a representative committee to protect the rights of families of victims of the Lusitania disaster were taken yesterday, when a temporary committee, headed by Ogden H. Hammond, an insurance man, sent out the following letter:

"The undersigned, survivors or relatives of victims in the Lusitania disaster, believe that some cooperative action should be taken to protect the rights of all those who suffered by reason of the disaster."

"We have arranged to hold a meeting of such persons in Room 215, of the Mutual Life Insurance Building, 32 Liberty Street, New York City, on April 26, at 2:30 o'clock, and cordially urge that you be present or have a representative there, or communicate with Ogden H. Hammond, the temporary chairman of the committee, at 80 Maiden Lane. The undersigned are merely acting as a temporary committee, and it is proposed to elect a permanent committee at the meeting."

The letter was signed by Mr. Hammond, Henry A. Bruno and Charles Rose.

It was said in connection with the letter that it was felt the government ought to help support relatives of the poorer victims of the disaster until such time, at least, as indemnity can be recovered from Germany.

1,000 TO SING IN FESTIVAL

Pateron's Annual Affair To Be Opened Tuesday Evening.

Pateron, N. J., April 22.—The fourteenth annual festival of the Pateron Music Festival Association will be held in the 5th Regiment Armory here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of this week. C. Mortimer Wiske will be at his usual place as conductor. The Pateron festival will be held in conjunction with the Newark and Jersey City festivals.

On the opening night, called "American Night," the 500 prize cantata, "Onawa," by Franz C. Hornsheim, of Baltimore, written especially for the three festivals, will be sung. In addition to the festival chorus of 1,000 voices, 500 school children will assist in singing the "Mars of Time," the third prize composition.

A large array of artists will be heard on the second night, "Opera Night." The Metropolitan Opera Quartette—Frieda Hempel, Margaret Matzner, Ricardo Martin and Allen Hinkley—will be heard in "Martha" and "Faust." Each member will also have solo numbers.

The third night, called "Tri-City Night," will bring together the largest chorus ever appearing in Pateron. Three thousand singers, members of the Pateron, Newark and Jersey City choruses, will sing the "Requiem," by Berlioz. In addition to brass bands and an orchestra of 150 pieces will accompany the chorus.

DENY WHITE RAT VICTORY

United Booking Offices Say No Agreement Has Been Made with Actors.

The White Rats Actors' Union announced last night that the United Booking Offices at Boston had made overtures of peace by offering a minimum wage scale to the actors and agreeing not to discriminate against them. The United Booking Offices issued a statement last night flatly denying the truth of this report.

For some time the White Rats and the booking office have been quarrelling in Boston. Each has refused to have business dealings with the other, and the Rats have been picketing all theatres and agencies.

No White Rats must be misled by any such statement," the proclamation of the booking office says. "The United Booking Office has absolutely not in writing or verbally made any agreement with the White Rats or with their representatives in any city in the United States, nor do they intend to."

UNDERSEA ATTACK PIRACY, HE SAYS

Declares Napoleon Could Have Used Submersibles in 1801, but Balked.

By ARCHIBALD HURD.

London, April 16.—The submarine as we know it today, despite German claims, is not a new weapon of warfare. It was sufficiently perfect at the time of the American Civil War to be employed in attacking merchant shipping at anchor, if the will to use it for that purpose had existed.

Indeed, during the Napoleonic war Fulton came very near success in supporting his claim that he could destroy men-of-war when at sea. In the summer of 1801 he carried out a series of experiments at Brest, blowing to pieces a pontoon by means of one of his ingenious torpedoes discharged from a submarine. He could as easily have destroyed a passenger ship. Why did he not make the attempt? Why did the French frown upon his designs even when directed only against men-of-war?

Submarines Once Were Barred.

In the first place, it does not seem to have occurred to the American engineer to set at defiance the ordinary dictates of humanity which distinguished civilized men from savages. The idea of submarine attack was abhorrent to most of the sailors of the early years.

Summer Furnishing

Everything to make your Summer home, whether town or country, comfortable and beautiful.

Summer Rugs—The best, most artistic we have been able to gather, including the new "Kobe" Rugs from Japan.

Summer Furniture, cool and delightful for indoors, piazza and lawn. First shown in Brooklyn is some rush furniture from Japan, in "hit-or-miss" colorings.

Cretonnes, so beautiful that they have been praised by one of the chief authorities in New York on such subjects. And many light and airy Summer hangings and curtains.

A Stock of Household Linens that is so good, so complete and so low in prices that our comparisons prove it to be without equal in the city.

The prettiest collection we know of Summer China, including a charming group of Lily Bowls, Fish Globes, and their appurtenances.

Lamps—New Chinese designs, mahogany lamps, and others charmingly decorative.

To order, and well-made—Awning, Slip Covers and Window Shades; it is best to give us your orders now. You will find our execution of them another example of thoroughness.

And finally, a word about our Personal Service for Interior Decorating.

It is in charge of an expert, whose purpose is to show that artistic furnishing can be also inexpensive; and who will help to work out your plans or suggest others—of course, without cost to you. You are invited to avail yourself of this expert's services. And we will undertake any commissions resulting from it with thoroughness in every detail.

of the nineteenth century, and the officers in charge of fireships, employed in ordinary naval warfare, were regarded as derogating from the high traditions of the sea.

When modern naval ordinance revolutionized warfare on land and sea it was not claimed that it should be employed in the willful murder of women and children. In those days men had come to think that war had been robbed of the cruel and barbarous practices common in the Dark Ages.

It was realized that the new torpedo threatened the battleships and warships generally, but not merchant ships.

Shipbuilders on both sides of the Atlantic continued to construct huge liners without a suspicion that it was necessary to protect them from such murderous weapons.

It remained for the Germans to advance the claim that because they could not send their dreadnoughts to sea they were at liberty to dispatch submarines to practise in the twentieth century acts of cold-blooded piracy which would have sickened even a cutthroat of the Barbary Coast.

Efforts to Lessen War Horrors.

It may be argued that these submarines were small and ineffective craft. In fact, many of them were larger and more powerful than some of the vessels Germany has employed in the present war. Britain had submarines of between 300 and 400 tons displacement, France had already advanced to over 700 tons, and the United States was building boats of nearly 900 tons.

That was the situation when the declaration was drawn up and the great nations of the world unanimously agreed that only in exceptional circumstances could a prize be destroyed, and then only when "all persons on board have been placed in safety."

It did not occur to any one at the conference that any state would have the audacity, cowardice and barbarity to claim that submarines should be given freedom to murder little children and women on the high seas as the Germans have done.

exceptional circumstances. Otherwise, must the law be broken and its spirit violated? As to the question of piracy, I cannot admit that any state has the right to resort to piracy.

Save Moving Your Old Piano

Now is the time to obtain the most for your old piano taken as part payment in exchange for a real modern up-to-date new one—and also save any possible charges for moving or storing.

To provide full employment in our Repair Workshop, during the usually dull season of summer, old pianos are worth more to us now than any other time in the year.

For the same reason, if your piano only needs repairing and you are away from home in the summer, we give you the benefit of specially low charges for the work.

SHOP in BROOKLYN

Aside from the natural economical advantages, which are real, and aside from the sentimental reasons, which are also real, you are actually helping to improve the place where you live and adding to the possible comfort and value of your home.

This will move and take care of your piano during the summer (free of moving or storage charges), to be returned in the best condition any time in the fall.

If you merely want your piano moved, our covered and padded auto-vans with expert men are at your service to do the work safely, quickly and cheaply.

Our Pianos are sold on an absolutely one price basis, every piano plainly marked so that the prices, the same to everyone, can be known to everyone.

These prices are the actual cost to make plus one fair profit with no further additions, nor do we pay or allow commissions of any nature whatever.

Our salesmen are employed on a salary; they are strictly in our employ and have no money interest outside of their salary as an inducement to make a sale or make representations to you which are not strictly true.
